City mortgage rates will top 10 percent

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Granite City residents who are waiting for a new city-backed mortgage bond program to pass before purchasing a new home may be hurting themselves financially, Dave Nolan, administrative assistant to Mayor Paul Schuler, told the Press-Record Wednesday.

Nolan said there are no guarantees that Congress will allow mortgage bond issues this year, and even if the city gets its program in operation, the interest rate is likely to be higher than the current rates for VA and FHA loans. "The 8% percent mortgage bond money is gone. There will not be any more money available at that rate. If we had sold the mortgage bonds last week, the loans would be going at 10% percent now. By next month, we might have to charge 11% percent for mortgage bond money," Nolan said. His advice was, "If you can get a home loan now at 10 to 11 percent, go after it. The city probably will not be able to give you better interest rate." A check with realtors and mortgage brokers shows that home loans now are available for as low as 10 percent. Until July 10, VA loans are available at 10 percent and FHA loans are 10% percent. Conventional loans are under 12 percent at banks and savings and loan institutions.

After July 10, the interest rate for VA and FHA will change, possibly rising to the former rate of 11 1/2 percent, one realtor speculated. The 10 percent money has caused a refreshing flood of purchasing this week, the realtor said. One mortgage broker received 40 applications for VA and FHA loans Monday and early Tuesday, causing him to close his office to new applications for a few hours Tuesday, so he could catch up with the paperwork, the realtor said. A few special programs also are available for the conventional home purchaser, including the Graduated Mortgage Plan (GMP), which allows a person who has a guaranteed future with his job to purchase a home with small mortgage payments in the early years of the loan. The payments rise annually.

Variable rate mortgages and other special programs also may be available in the near future, realtors believe. A city mortgage bond issue may generate more sales among those who do not qualify for VA or FHA loans, at this time, Nolan said, so work is being done as rapidly as possible to prepare a bond issue of up to $30 million.

Tuesday night the city council approved an ordinance designating the underwriter and the street department the program, which will enable the underwriter to begin a market analysis of this area Monday or Tuesday.

Clayton, Brown & Associates, Inc., of Chicago was affirmed as the bond underwriting firm and Chapman & Cutler of Chicago was hired as bonding attorneys.

"We are taking as many actions as we can at this time for more ground to stand on. We do not know what requirements we will have to meet if Congress opens up the program again today, next week or next month," he added.

The ordinance approved Tuesday evening also sets a "ceiling" of $30 million for the program, but Nolan said the total will be determined by the market analysis and is likely to be below that figure.

The ordinance also opens up the door for financing of owner-occupied four-family dwellings and condominiums to be financed under the city-backed mortgage bonds.

Nolan said the city hopes to use this to sell the four-family flat the city's rehabilitation board is modifying at 2145-45 Edison Ave. The purchase would be required to live in the structure, but rent from the other apartments could more than meet the owner's monthly mortgage payments, he estimated.

City Council rejects curtailed spending

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Despite a warning by two members of the Granite City Council's finance committee Tuesday night that the city needs to curtail spending to avoid a tax increase, the Granite City Council agreed with Mayor Paul Schuler's recommendation that no immediate action be taken, other than more work on the city's 1980-81 fiscal year budget. "We have faced these crises before," Schuler calmly told the council.

"I don't think it's as bleak as everyone thinks," City Treasurer Nick Petrillo told the council, predicting, "We are going to meet our obligations. I believe new revenue sharing will come in. We have used $38,000 in revenue sharing now to meet the payroll and I think the total will be over $500,000 by the end of the fiscal year."

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the finance committee, disagreed. "In the first place, we do not receive $400 in revenue sharing and the amount is decreasing each year. I would like to know where Mr. Petrillo finds he is going to get the money," Bowler told the Press-Record after the meeting.

Bowler and Alderman Warren Decatur of the finance committee

'It's not quite as bleak as it looks'
—City Treasurer Nick Petrillo

issued a statement to the Press-Record last week (printed in the June 30 edition) in which they warned that several city departments and programs should be abolished if the city is to avoid a large tax increase.

They suggested that the city continue city basic services to the citizens, including police, fire and ambulance services.

Cutbacks in the staffs of the sewage treatment and street department, elimination of the Air Pollution Control Department and other cuts were recommended.

The third member of the finance committee, Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, made it clear at Tuesday night's meeting that he was not a part of the discussions which led to issuance of the statement and disapproved of the action.

Petrillo said the financial situation seems bad now, because the city has no money to pay its bills. It was necessary to take $125,000 from revenue sharing for the July 13 payroll, but funds from several sources are coming in and should enable the city to meet its July 30 payroll.

"Our problem is paying our bills. I have a stack of bills. As the money comes in, we pay, but we have to tighten our belts," Petrillo told the council.

He said the city's ambulance service is consistently losing money. "Receipts for May and June were $20,000 while disbursements were $27,000. That's a $7,000 shortage. We just can't keep going that way and get in the black." The city is in the red, Petrillo said.

However, he noted, when taxes begin

Taco's Bell is back

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

"It's back," Richard Carlton, district manager for Taco Bell restaurants, said Monday, referring to the large bell which was stolen two weeks ago from the arch on top of the Taco Bell Restaurant, 3801 Namekiki Road.

Theft of the bell, reported in the Press-Record's June 19 issue, noted two men were seen on the roof of the restaurant at night removing the bell. "We found the bell in the parking area at the rear of the restaurant," Carlton said.

"A typewritten note was inside a sealed white envelope which was taped to the bell."

"The envelope had a small drawing of the bell and Taco Bell hand printed on it," the district manager said.

The note stated: "Dear Taco Bell: 'Here is your worthless fiberglass bell. Taking your bell was nothing more than a harmless prank.'"

"We had no intention of trying to steal it. Who would want the damn thing, even if it were real."

"All we wanted was a little something in the Press-Record. I must say we were beginning to wonder if you were going to come through for us."

"I hope you haven't bought a new one. If you did it still can't hurt to have a spare."

"It was a very risky thing for us to try, and we probably won't again. So please feel free and safe to put it back up."

"Look on the bright side...you got some free advertising. It may have been embarrassing, but you'll get over it."

"Thank You."
"P.S. Hope there are no hard feelings. Please excuse my typing."

There was no signature on the note, Carlton said.

A similar incident has occurred in the past at Champaign-Urbana, where college students also removed a symbolic Taco Bell as a prank. They didn't return it, however.

Initially, it was speculated the bell was stolen by thieves who may have thought it was valuable, as from the ground it gives the appearance of being

The bell is made of fiberglass, as the note indicated, and painted an antique gold or resemble metal. Its actual worth is under $40.

'Good neighbors' Citizens of Year

Harry A. Briggs and Pauline (Tester) Briggs were named Pontoon Beach's citizens of the year by the Pontoon Beach Lions Club Monday night.

The Briggs operate the Pizza Pit Restaurant in Pontoon Beach and have been active in the community and Namekiki Township since 1947.

The honor was bestowed during the club's annual community awards dinner in the new Lions Den, 3801 Lake Drive. The Briggs are the fifth couple to receive the citizens of the year award, which was first bestowed on Otto and Corine Kreher in 1976.

Subsequent couples honored with the award were John and Irene Karlechik in 1977, Andy and JoAnn Bukovic in 1978 and Chester and Thelma Dean last year.

Harry Briggs served 16 years as supervisor of Namekiki Township and was on the Madison County Board of Supervisors. He helped organize the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department and serves as one of the three trustees of the Long Lake Fire Protection District, the taxing body which supports the fire department.

He was a candidate, at various times, for both state representative and state senator posts, but failed to win election. He served as secretary for the County & Township Officials of Illinois, and is a past president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

He also serves as a Democratic precinct committeeman and was chairman of the annual John F. Kennedy Dinner Dance.

In addition to operating the Pizza Pit, with his wife, Briggs is an aide to State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

They formerly operated a tavern in Pontoon Beach, constructed the Pontoon Athletic Club (now the Skip Inn) in 1960, which contained the area's first fire phone, and they owned and operated Madison Bowl before starting the Pizza Pit.

Area swelters as temperature soars

Temperatures soared to 105 degrees in the Quad-City area Tuesday afternoon, breaking the 49-year-old record for July 1.

It was the hottest day in 14 years and the first time since Aug. 12, 1975, that the mercury topped 100 degrees in this area.

Combined with the lack of rainfall, the heat caused agricultural officials to predict "disastrous results" in some sections of Illinois where the drought already has cut prospective harvests.

The temperature Tuesday began moving upward shortly after noon and hit the 105 mark at 4:11 p.m.

Rainfall in the Quad-City area measured only 2.20 inches or 2.07 inches below the normal of 4.27 inches for the month.

The June precipitation brought to 10.77 inches the total fall for the first six months, or 7.30 below the normal of 18.07 for the six-month period.

Rainfall during June occurred on June 1, .35 of an inch; June 6, .43 of an inch; June 23, a trace; June 24, .70; June 29, .35.

Tuesday's sweltering temperatures hindered many motorists who experienced boiling radiators and stalled motors, particularly those traveling during the evening rush hours when the mercury was at its peak.

Following Tuesday's heat record, heavy storms moved into the Quad-City and Southern Illinois area, dropping 1.07 inches of rainfall here until 8 a.m. today. Heavier rains were reported in various parts of the region, some localities reporting rainfall of two inches in little more than an hour.

In some areas of the Southern Illinois region, winds gusts to 80 miles per hour. Other areas had golf-ball size hail.

The storm cut a 220-mile path, wrecking mobile homes, felling trees, damaging roofs and causing power outages.

A 7-year-old girl drowned in Kincaid Lake west of Carbondale where she was in a boat on a family outing. An 8-year-old boy was injured at Osage Beach,

Briggs wins Navy medal

Marine Lance Cpl. Gerald W. Briggs, son of William G. and Daisy E. Briggs of 1924 Johnson Road, has been awarded the Navy Achievement Medal.

He was cited for superior performance of duty in containing a brush fire June 10, 1979, at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Briggs manned a bulldozer and began cutting a vital fire break between the fire and endangered buildings and equipment. Several times he was obliterated from view by heavy dust, flames and smoke created by the fire. He remained calm and continued to work until the fire was under control. His efforts prevented the fire from engulfing and destroying several buildings and expensive equipment.

He joined the Marine Corps in January 1977. His wife, Donna, is the daughter of Donald C. and Betty J. Boyce of 2000 Park Ave., Granite City.

Public health services expand; state revenue up but recession spreading

Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported this week that almost $100 million a year is now being spent to provide Illinoisans with a broad range of public health services — more than 50 programs — that reach to every level of the state.

In his monthly fiscal report, Burris focused on the Illinois Department of Public Health and its widely-expanded public programs in such new areas as kidney disease, hemophilia, hypertension, diabetes, and widespread clinical testing of children.

The balance of the report shows a still-strong available balance for the state, but the Illinois economic picture indicates recession is spreading throughout the economy, he said.

Here are some of the key findings of the special report on the Illinois Department of Public Health:

—Total appropriations from all funds to the department in FY (fiscal year) 1980 were $98.7 million. That is $61.7 million over, or more than double, the FY 1971 figure. Slightly more than half of those funds ($50.7 million) came from the federal government.

—Awards and grants funding has increased more than 18 times since FY 1971, widely expanding care for high-risk infants, kidney victims, vision and hearing services, and local government programs.

—The fastest growing public health program (federally-funded) is the Women and Infant Care nutrition program, which provides clinical care and proper food at the local level.

—More than 90 percent of all grant funds in the past five years went into these basic programs:

1. Women and Infant Care nutrition and clinical services expanded more than five times from $3.6 million

AMVETS ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS

Back row: Kim Mushill, left, first place in category 3 (junior high), who received a $50 savings bond; and Linda Kuberkis, first place in category 2 (grades 4-6), who also received a $50 savings bond. Front row: Gail Tackaberry, left, (grade 6), and Kathy Grobocki (grade 5), both tied for third place in category 2, receiving $5 figures.

The impact of the expansion of services is reflected in these IDPH figures:

1. The number of individuals served by the Women, Infant and Child nutrition project more than tripled in the last five years, from 15,700 to FY 1975 to 60,000 in FY 1979.
2. The number of children screened for vision or hearing problems averaged 2.9 million in the last five years, peaking in FY 1979 at 3,178,970.
3. Immunizations totaled 1,517,800 in FY 1979.
4. The department registered 508,566 births, deaths, and marriages in FY 1979, and certified 64,143 records.
5. The department additionally made 2,871 inspections of long term care facilities and 780 hospitals; analyzed 40,177 specimens; acted on 438 laboratory licenses; and trained 7,270 individuals in emergency medical procedures.

State revenues, which fueled record high available balances in the general funds in each of the last 11 months, continue to reflect a good fiscal position. But the full effects of spreading recession may dim that outlook somewhat when the full results are in on the fiscal year now ending.

Total revenues from all sources to the general funds after 11 months were $7.152 billion, which is $788 million or 11.5 percent over the same period last year.

Revenues from state sources climbed $628 million, including $345 million in personal property replacement taxes, while federal funds dropped $100 million.

Other state fiscal highlights:

- Illinois unemployment is still higher than the national rate, and sales of durable goods are down 14 percent over a year ago. Wholesale prices for finished goods rose only slightly, reflecting a declining demand.
- The average daily available balance in the state's general funds over the last 11 months was $314 million.
- The state road fund remains anemic, with receipts from the gasoline tax down $40 million from last year at this time.

Fireflies will pay off

Sigma Firefly Scientists Club, a division of Sigma Chemical Company is making plans to insure that scientists around the world have a fresh supply of the chemicals derived from the firefly. This need for fireflies provides an excellent opportunity to aid science while earning significant sums of money.

Largely through the efforts of Sigma Firefly Scientists Club, scientists have been able to study the occurrence of ATP (Adenosine Triphosphate) in all types of living cells. ATP is a basic substance common to almost everything that grows — man, animal, or plant.

How cells use ATP is a mystery that is rapidly being solved. How cancer cells differ from normal cells is, of course, of vital importance to all of us. To further unravel these mysteries, we must have fireflies.

Fireflies are also useful in tackling problems with our environment. An instrument has been developed which is expected to greatly improve the testing of water for bacterial contamination. Instead of 48 hours, as is generally required, it can be done in only four hours thus reducing the risk of drinking contaminated water. The firefly made this instrument possible.

With a good net and a little instruction, one can easily bag a hundred or more in an hour.

Boy Scout troops, 4-H Clubs, church groups, any organization or individual that needs to raise money can do so easily and pleasantly simply by scheduling several nights in the parks and fields catching fireflies for science.

Catchers are paid a penny a piece for each firefly turned in. In addition to the basic payment, an incentive bonus is paid at the quantity level.

For further information Quad-Cityans may call or write to Sigma Firefly Scientists Club, 3500 DeKalb, St. Louis, Mo. 63118.

Pre-military registration planned Monday at SIUE

A pre-military registration, pre-military draft counseling and training session will be held Monday, July 7 at 7 p.m. in the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Joe Santee of the United Campus Ministry at SIUE.

Santee said these who should attend the session include: "All youth, especially 18 to 30-year-olds, concerned about their futures and the upcoming registration which is expected to begin in mid-July; parents who want to know what to expect and how they can help; and religious leaders and youth workers who may be in a position to counsel persons facing registration and the possibility of a draft."

According to Santee, the proposed registration procedures do not allow for any classification at the time of registration, and in the event of a draft, there will only be a few days for those seeking conscientious objector status to provide the necessary documentation. "It is important to begin that process now," he said.

The counseling and training session will include a new film strip, "Every Heart Beats True," which raises questions about war or peace attitudes. There will be information concerning the history of conscription and the legislative history of the current registration effort. Time will be given to discussing registration procedures, laws, techniques, and resources for counseling and documenting alternatives to military service, Santee said.

The session will be led by the Rev. Tom Kinzie of Springfield. For the past three years, Rev. Kinzie has been director of the Illinois Consortium for World Peace Ministries, associated with the Illinois Conference of Churches.

He is also pastor of the First Church of the Brethren in Springfield and chairman of the District Witness Commission of the Church of the Brethren in Illinois-Wisconsin. During the Vietnam War, Rev. Kinzie did volunteer work as a draft counselor and more recently was trained as a counselor by the National Inter-religious Service Board for Conscientious Objectors (NISBCO), which is located in Washington, D.C.

FIREWORKS FLANNED BY SCHNUCK MARKETS

Schnuck Markets, Coca Cola Bottling Co. of St. Louis and K. K. K. Wilson Park fireworks Friday, fair continues

A mammoth display of spectacular fireworks to celebrate the Fourth of July will take place at 9 p.m. Friday in Wilson Park.

The pyrotechnic extravaganza is part of the 21st annual Independence Day celebration which will continue in Wilson Park through Sunday.

The bursting aerial bombs, brilliant shooting stars and colorful set pieces annually attract thousands of spectators to the scene of the fireworks which are visible from many points in the Quad-Cities.

In addition to Friday's night-time display, the midway will be operating Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 1 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. today until 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

A matinee period for youngsters with all rides priced at 25 cents is taking place until 5 p.m. today and will be repeated again on Saturday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Stagecoach, a country-western group from this area, will present a show at 7:30 p.m. today at the Wilson Park Rink Pavilion.

Nashville recording stars, Ron Mahan and The Country Lads will perform at Diamond 8 in Wilson Park at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Admission to both performances is free.

Concession booths, sponsored by local church and youth organizations and civic groups, are being operated during the same hours as the midway.

Area banks and savings and loan firms will be closed Friday, Saturday and Sunday, opening at their regular time on Monday, July 7.

All post offices will be closed Friday with no mail delivery. Deliveries will resume Saturday when post office lobbies also will be open to accommodate box renters. There will be no window service Saturday.

City, county and state offices will be closed for a three-day weekend.

Some area stores will be open and are running Fourth of July sales, while others are closed for the holiday.

The Granite City Press-Record will next publish Monday, July 7, and our verifying for this issue is required no later than 4:30 p.m. today.

Heat and fares irk Bi-State bus riders

Bi-State Transit Agency fell short of its promise that all its buses would be air conditioned by the time the basic fare was doubled July 1, but it was difficult to foresee when that promise was made that the temperature on that day would reach 105 degrees.

Breakdowns of old air conditioners and the inability of others to cool the buses on the hottest day in 14 years in this area contributed to many riders becoming irritable and angry at Bi-State Tuesday and Wednesday as they paid a 50-cent basic fare, only to ride in a hot bus with the windows open, rather than to enjoy air conditioning.

Several unofficial surveys by St. Louis news media indicated that the air conditioning seemed to be working on only about 40 to 60 percent of the buses Monday.

Bi-State has blamed old equipment, combined with the heat of the weather, for the failure of many of the air conditioning units.

Bi-State officials said they had more complaints about the air conditioning failures than the doubling of the basic fare. However, many were disgruntled by the hike from 25 to 50 cents in the fare Tuesday.

The transit company had attempted to soften the blow for riders with an advertising campaign showing how much cheaper it is to ride the bus, even with the higher fares, than to drive a car to work. Still, comments of "It's too much," and "What choice do we have," were heard frequently by bus riders.

One positive note, Bi-State has initiated a new express route on weekdays which will take Quad-City area residents to the Muni Opera in Forest Park, St. Louis.

The Muni Opera buses begin at Broadway and Market in Alton, go through Wood River to Highway 111, then south to East Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell, west to Route 208, south to Nameoki Village Shopping Center, then southwest on Madison Avenue to Broadway in Venice and across the McKinley Bridge to Forest Park.

Times of the stops may be obtained by calling Bi-State at 875-4144.

Charge 3 men in vehicle

Three men were charged with alcohol violations after their vehicle was stopped by police for allegedly speeding in the 2800 block of Madison Avenue at 8:55 p.m. Tuesday.

The auto was halted at the National Food Store parking area, Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road, where a passenger allegedly was seen to pour out beer on the ground. Police reported an open can of beer also had been spilled on the rear floor of the car.

Arrested was the driver, John D. Monroe Jr., 23, of 1817 Courtenay Blvd., who was charged with speeding and illegal transportation of alcohol; and Leonard J. Giles, 28, of 2737 Dale Ave., and William J. Brannan Jr., 24, of 2102 Nevada Ave., both of whom were charged with illegal possession of alcohol.

Stabbed at trailer park

Bruce Manninger, who listed an address on Lakeview drive, came to Granite City police headquarters at 6:10 p.m. Tuesday and reported being stabbed twice earlier the same day at a trailer park at 2201 Nameoki Road.

Manninger showed officers two half-inch stab wounds inflicted on the abdomen.

He had not gone to a hospital for medical attention, but had been treated by a friend who is a nurse, he told police.

Manninger gave this account of the incident: "I saw he left the mobile home of a friend at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday to lock his car.

He opened the car door on the driver's side and was reaching across the seat to lock the other side, when the passenger door was opened by a man who stabbed him twice in the stomach with an object that may have been a screwdriver.

Manninger said his assailant, who could have been hiding alongside the vehicle, then ran north on Ridgedale Avenue.

He described the man as about 18 or 20 years old with dark, shoulder-length hair.

coming in, the city will be able to pay a tax reduction, it would be very healthy to consider that.

LATE TAXES BLAMED

Mayor Schuler said the current financial shortage is temporary and stated, "It is brought about by the (Madison County) Board of Review and their problems." Schuler said he sympathized with massive caseload of tax objections being heard by the Board of Review and realizes that, under state law, the county cannot send out tax bills until Board of Review hearings have been completed.

It is possible that the tax bills will not even be mailed out by the county until sometime in August, Schuler said.

He said he has asked Granite City Steel to consider paying its estimated taxes now, before getting its tax bill. "It is true I have asked at least one industry to pay one estimated tax until July 9, when hearings by the Board of Review are completed. An emergency exists and I have asked Granite City Steel to pay some of its money in advance. We have taken the necessary steps," the mayor said.

Receipt of the annual taxes from Granite City Steel at this time could help the city, the school board, the park board and other governmental bodies avoid borrowing between now and the time other taxes actually will be received later this summer, Schuler explained.

The mayor said Bowler's recommendations show "good sound financial thinking," but said that to reduce services to taxpayers probably would not be accepted well, since the city is "in the business of providing these services."

He added, "It is good for the city to review the services that it provides for the citizens. If ever, an alderman realizes that the citizens are ready to give up services in favor of a tax reduction, it would be very healthy to consider that.

"You aldermen, more than the mayor, are the grassroots and have a feel for what the people are ready to give up," Schuler said.

"Inflation hits not only the man on the street, but also city governments, which is the man on the street," he added.

However, he predicted, work currently being done by himself, the finance committee and the city treasurer should show that all city departments can be operated at their present levels with the income the city predicts it will receive.

He said a tentative budget will be presented to the council in two weeks (July 15) for the aldermen to consider. Schuler rejected requests by Schuman and Third Ward Alderman Roy Poulos that a special caucus be called for Tuesday night, July 8, to discuss the city's financial condition.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said the matter should be considered in the council. "Are we going to receive the amount of money to run the services? If not, cut the services and cut the air pollution department first. The state says it can do that job now."

He said he believes the mayor, and not the council, should prepare the annual budgets in the future. "If this city goes in the red, a lot of the responsibility will be on your shoulders," he told the mayor. "You should have a part in preparing the budget," he added.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward disagreed. "I think you are entirely wrong. The budget should not be taken from the council, the body that governs the city," he stated.

Bowler said the city should realize that for several years it has continued to grow, while revenue has continued to shrink. A reduction in population from the peak in 1970 has caused reductions in sales taxes, motor fuel taxes, revenue sharing and real estate taxes.

"We have to keep gambling on incomes. If taxes are received in time, it is preposterous to have 1,000 fewer people living in the city and have the same number of city employees as in 1970," Bowler said.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward agreed, telling Schuler, "Since your administration has taken over, we have increased the police by eight or nine people, the fire department by seven or eight people and the sewage treatment plant by a comparable number of people. We are overloaded with employees there (at the sewage treatment plant)."

The city is going to be in trouble if we do not make some reductions in payroll. We have too many chiefs and not enough Indians."

Alderman Glen Sprankle of the Fourth Ward defended the sewage treatment plant, noting that the number of employees there now is the number the engineers of the plant recommended.

Alderman Everett Morien of the First Ward then defended the police department staff, stating, "I think we need more police, the way things are going now. If we had been getting our tax bills when we should be, I don't think we would be in this predicament."

Schuler concluded discussion of the issue by stating, "I believe we will be in a tentative budget in two weeks. We will meet the July 31 deadline (for budget passage). We have faced these crises before."

Year was Bobby Durbin, who was presented a large plaque. Durbin was chairman of the membership committee and has been active in many of the club's activities and civic projects.

Plaques of appreciation were given to Long Lake Assistant Chief Lee Adams, Pontoon Beach Police Sgt. Chester Balke, Long Lake Junior Firemen President Bob Hale and Dan Reinhardt and to Cindy Niepert, president of the Lioness Club of Pontoon Beach.

Appreciation awards for Lion members included one to Clay Bryan for his service as deputy district governor the past two years, and Don Patrick for serving as district zone chairman the past two years and for his promotion to deputy district governor.

New officers installed, with the name of the person they replaced in parenthesis, were: president, David Schermer (George H. Goodwin); vice-president, Bob Barton (Schermer); second vice-president, John Young (Barton); third vice-president, Frank Cramer (Schermer); secretary-treasurer, Patrick (Chester Dean was treasurer and Patrick was secretary); Lion Lamer, Durbin; and lion tamer, Mike Przygo (John P. Young).

Elected as members of the board of directors were Bob Cramer, Jerry Henderson, Dean and Vince Thorpe. Dean and Thorpe are to serve for two years as district zone chairmen.

As new president, Schermer assumed the gavel and said he was grateful to head a club he had seen grow from only a handful of members to its present size.

In his departing speech,

Goodwin said he was grateful for the support he had received as president and reviewed some of the club's achievements during the year.

A highlight of the year, he said, was that the Pontoon Beach Club was able to coordinate its first eye donation. Press-Record columnist Larry Hartwick donated an eye to the program upon his death June 25.

Club members transported the eye to the McKellan Eye Center in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where the cornea was transplanted into another person. Hospital officials say they cannot release the identity of the recipient or tell him or her who the donor was.

District Governor Ralph Johnson was thanked for coming to Pontoon Beach for the installation and was presented a gift, a Lion drinking mug.

Mortgage

Benton St., which the city has rehabilitated and is now for sale also could be financed through the program, if it is not sold before the program begins, he told the Press-Record.

"I plan to see to it that money for these city projects is set aside in the mortgage bond program," Nolan concluded.

Under the mortgage bond program, the city sells tax-free bonds for home mortgages. Due to the tax-free nature of the bonds, mortgages can be offered which are below the conventional mortgage rate. About 90 percent of the proceeds from the bond issues go for mortgages and the other 10 percent are used for setting up and administering the program.

Mortgage payments then are used to repay the bonds and interest.

During the city's first mortgage bond program last year, $10 million in bonds were sold and about $8 was distributed to home purchasers at 8 1/2 percent interest. The program included only single-family houses and duplexes.

The aldermen Tuesday night rejected the inclusion of four-unit structures and condominiums in the new program and Nolan said HUD (the Department of Housing and Urban Development) guidelines on multi-family dwelling units begin with six-family buildings. Anything less than six-family structures could conceivably be included in the program, he said.

It was decided to limit the program, this time, to up to four family units.

Alderman Charlie Douglas of the First Ward said he is in favor of the program, but he urged amendments to the ordinance asserting that the council must act on all actions.

Cafeteria facility named Bonaventure's

Bonaventure's opened at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center as the new cafeteria and administrative personnel moved and dined in the multi-level dining facility.

Announced by Sister Mary Thomas, president of the medical center, the name of the new cafeteria facility was chosen from the suggestions of the center's staff. Bonaventure's was suggested by Dorothy Kramer, a business office daytime employee, is in honor of the late Sister Bonaventure, who was in charge of the laboratory many years ago.

She was a great enthusiast of gardens and flowers and later took over upkeep of the chapel at the hospital. In order to have fresh flowers for the chapel, Sister Bonaventure planted a rose garden near the Binney Wing.

With the addition to the boiler house the garden was moved to a green house on the roof next to the chapel. It later had to be moved to the new cafeteria facility. The new cafeteria facility was chosen from the suggestions of the center's staff.

To perpetuate the memory of Sister Bonaventure and her garden, the adjacent green house, visible from 21st Street near the emergency room entrance, will be called "Sister Bonaventure's Garden."

Attorney Leo Konzen was master of ceremonies for the opening program which more than 90 persons attended.

Public hearing July 9 on GC park budgets

The Granite City Park Board of Commissioners has adopted a tentative budget of $77,772 for the 1981 fiscal year and a public hearing is set for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 9, at the park district office in Wilson Park.

Estimated expenses for corporate purposes is listed in the budget at $48,484, with the recreation program and facilities appropriation set at $39,588.

Expenditures estimated for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund contributions is $41,000, liability insurance, $14,800, and audit expenses, $2,650.

Anticipated expenditures in the Neighborhood Parks Fund, amounting to $84,019, includes $33,693 for development of West Granite Park, including walkways and surfacing.

OK bridge study

State Representative Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) announced Tuesday that he had learned the Illinois Highway Department has obtained approval from the State of Missouri to proceed with the selection of a consultant to prepare a jointly-funded design study for the replacement of the Clark Bridge at Alton, Ill.

Steele said the study is estimated to be approximately $400,000, of which Missouri is to pay 30 percent of the cost.

Rep. Steele stated, "This bi-state design agreement is a major step forward in efforts to construct a new four-lane bridge over the Mississippi River at Alton. It represents the important first phase preparatory to seeking Federal approval and funds for this project. I have been in continuous contact with the governor's Administration has given this project full support, and that Illinois Highway Director John Kramer and Missouri Highway Director Robert Hunter have worked out the necessary approvals to proceed."

Last year, Rep. Steele introduced legislation (HB 550) in the Illinois House of Representatives, which was sponsored by Senator Sam

Vadalabene in the Senate, requiring that a location be selected and cooperation be sought with Missouri to replace the Clark Bridge.

Prior to introduction of this legislation, replacement of the Clark Bridge had been considered "tenuous," with Missouri proceeding with construction of a new four-lane Lewis Bridge across the Missouri River, but no plans moving forward for a companion new span over the Mississippi, despite the fact that the Clark Bridge had been considered "archaic, narrow and dangerous."

Upon completion of the jointly-funded design project, Federal approval of the cost of the remaining 15 percent. The new bridge has been estimated to cost $40 million or more.

Attempted abduction

The family of a 17-year-old West Granite City girl reported that she was the object of an abduction attempt in a kidnapping at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The girl told police a man came into the rear yard of the home and grabbed her by the wrist.

He was holding a large butcher knife in his left hand and told the girl to "Come here," she said.

She screamed and shouted "Leave me alone," and was able to pull away from the man and run into the house.

The girl's father chased the man down the alley, but was unable to catch him, police were told.

The assailant was described as being 25 or 26 years of old with dark, collar-length hair and a lighter colored beard.

He wore a sleeveless jacket and blue jeans and a white baseball cap on his head. He was not wearing a shirt, the girl said.

Madison firm observes 25 years in business

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Everyone knows what happened on July 4, 1955, but do you know what happened on July 3, 1955?

Twenty-five years ago, Robert Beckett and Ray Edwards opened Sterling Television and Appliance Co. at 420 Madison Ave., Madison.

The two men had been working together in another appliance type store in St. Louis, and they looked around the area, liked the community of Madison, liked the people, and a building was available.

The available store was built in 1927 as a savings and loan, then a Champion and Son, then a David Friedman and Son, and finally was occupied by attorney G. Edmund Cook and later became the offices of Venice Township.

Edwards and Beckett remodeled the building in 1956. In 1963 business demanded they enlarge so they expanded the building and added a 50 foot by 22 foot addition.

A few years ago, when everyone was talking about a new "Alpine look" for Madison, the two civic minded business men tried giving the program a boost and were the first to remodel their store, even though their store at the time had a very fine looking front.

The store sells major brands of air conditioners, refrigerators, freezers, washers, driers, electric and gas ranges; plus a multitude of televisions sets in all shapes and sizes.

Edwards and Beckett are very proud of their service facilities. The store motto is "service after the sale," and they can service practically any type of appliance with the latest in electronic servicing equipment.

Edwards and Beckett are interested not only in their business but in making the area a better place to live, work and shop.

Among the civic organization in which they participate are: Madison-Venice Rotary Club, Boy Scouts of America, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Madison Business Association.

Expand phone service for hearing impaired

Illinois Bell, along with the entire Bell System, now is offering expanded 24-hour operator service to hearing and speech-impaired individuals who use special telecommunications devices for the deaf to communicate over telephone lines.

By dialing a new toll-free number, (800) 855-1155, users of telecommunications devices for the deaf (TDDs) can dial anywhere in the continental United States and reach a special Bell System operator who will help them with person-to-person, collect, credit card and third-number calls.

In addition, TDD users now will have 24-hour directory assistance service to obtain telephone numbers that are not in the local directory. The special operators also will help when TDD callers reach a recorded announcement or have other difficulties making a call.

This expanded service will benefit approximately 50,000 TDD users in their homes and offices across the nation.

The deaf and speech-impaired traveler who has a TDD also can place calls from public coin telephones and from hotels or motels that have dial telephones in their rooms or dial switchboards.

A telecommunications device for the deaf consists of a visual display or hard copy (paper) and a typewriter-like keyboard unit that can be acoustically coupled to a telephone. The TDD caller types messages which are transmitted to Bell System operators who have similar devices.

The operators are located at four regional centers: Oakland, Omaha, Boston and Philadelphia. TDD users calling from the Illinois area will be served by the Omaha center.

Although this new expanded operator service is provided by the Bell System, it also will be available to callers dialing from independent (non-Bell) telephone company territories.

Ike Eichelberger, Illinois Bell Manager of Services for the Disabled, said that a customer instruction booklet now is available to all TDD users through their local Bell Telephone Companies, many of the independent telephone companies or through agencies and associations which serve the deaf and speech-impaired. Illinois Bell will mail the instruction booklet to its TDD customers.

"There are probably more TDD users in Illinois than we know about," said Eichelberger. "We're trying to locate these people and let them know we're here to help."

Any Illinois TDD user who would like a copy of the instruction booklet or who needs further information on services for the disabled may call the toll-free teleprinter number (800) 872-9002 at Illinois Bell's new Communications Center for the Disabled. Those with normal speech and hearing should dial the toll-free number (800) 572-5062, he noted.

Dental students graduate

The final class of three-year graduates of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine received the doctor of dental medicine degree at commencement exercises during the weekend. The ceremony was held in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center.

The school adopted a four-year education program two years ago and will graduate the first class in 1982.

R. Dale Smith, professor of biomedical sciences and veteran anatomy teacher who helped plan and develop the dental school, gave the commencement address.

Smith will retire in June after 11 years at SIUE.

SIUE acting President Earl Lazerson conferred the degrees on members of the sixth graduating class after a greeting from SIUE Chancellor Kenneth Shaw.

Other program officials were: SDM Dean Henry M. Cherrick and Dr. Wilbert H. Milligan, associate professor of microbiology, presented diplomas; Dr. Philip M. Hoag, executive associate dean, announced candidates; acting Vice President and Provost Earl S. Beard and Dr. Ordie King, chairman of the department of diagnostic specialties, assisted with the hooding ceremony; and campus minister, Rev. Joe Santos, gave the invocation and benediction.

Philip Lin Benton, a member of the class of 1980, gave the class response. Music, including a pre-commencement concert, was provided by the SIUE Brass Ensemble, directed by Marcia La Reau, director of bands.

A reception honoring the 1980 graduates was held in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center immediately after the program.

Audit study continues

The investigation into alleged irregularities into Madison School District attendance records is continuing, according to Ronald Grimming, supervisor of the fraud and forgery unit of the Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation (DCI).

Grimming said that his office has not received the report of the attendance audit and until he does and has a chance to review the findings it is unfair to make any judgment.

Grimming further questioned the validity of the figures some of the news media are quoting.

Madison Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff said that he had not been contacted by either the auditors or representatives of the DCI.

Palchiff said the auditors for Title I program, dealing with children with reading and mathematical problems, held their exit conference after their audit and everything was apparently in order.

Allegations that enrollment figures reported to the Illinois Department of Education had been inflated were made by an unidentified person to the DCI.

The questions are centering around Madison High School figures. State financing of school districts is based in part on the average daily attendance in the district.

Eagles present gift

A $1,000 gift from the Illinois Eagles' Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's Fund has been presented to the Granite City School District to benefit pupils in the Special Education program.

The presentation was made by Granite City Eagles Aerie 1126 at a meeting in the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave., by Carl Robinson, chairman of the aerie's Jimmy Durante Fund.

Accepting the gift check for the school district was Vasil Eftimoff, assistant administrator, Pupil and Personnel Services.

The check was one of 11 such grants received in Illinois this month.

Two other grants of $1,000 each were presented to area service groups—the Illinois Center for Autistic Children in Fairview Heights, and the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois, headquartered in Alton.

Taking part in the presentation ceremony at the local Eagles Home with Robinson were Robert Sanders, Aerie 1126 president, James Smith, aerie secretary, and Carl Buehler, an Illinois State chairman for the Jimmy Durante Fund for several years.

The Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's Fund is committed to aiding mentally and physically handicapped children through grants to institutions which care for, educate or rehabilitate.

The fund also furnishes assistance to establishments treating or researching diseases of children.

Divorced Catholics to meet

The SIDSC (Southern Illinois Divorced-Separated Catholics) will meet July 9 at 7:30 p.m. in Eckhard Hall of St. Boniface Church, Edwardsville. FEATURED SPEAKERS and gospel music performers to appear at the Illinois District of the Assemblies of God family camp in Carlinville, Ill. this month. The annual summer program opened at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday featuring Dino and Debby Kartsonakis in a sacred music concert. Others to participate at various dates include John Wesley Fletcher, Jim Bakker and Jimmy Swaggart.

Assemblies of God family camp opens

The Illinois District of the Assemblies of God family camp at Lake Williamson Christian Center, Carlinville, Ill., opened Tuesday, July 1, and will continue its activities through July 13, featuring special guest speakers and gospel music groups.

The initial evening series of meetings with a sacred music concert was performed by one of gospel music's top duo's, Dino and Debby Kartsonakis.

Beginning Wednesday, July 2 through July 6, the guest speaker will be John Wesley Fletcher of Oklahoma City.

Rev. Fletcher has become a regular guest on such programs as the 700 Club, the PTL Club, and Trinity Broadcasting.

He will present a gospel message at 7:15 p.m. through Saturday and on Sunday, July 6, he will deliver a sermon at 2 p.m.

On Sunday, July 6, at 7:15 p.m. Jim Bakker, president of the PTL television network and host of the PTL Club, a Christian talk variety show produced at PTL's Heritage Village Studios in Charlotte, N.C., will speak.

An innovator in Christian television Rev. Bakker, an ordained Assemblies of God minister, helped pioneer the successful 700 Club for the Christian Broadcasting Network, Portsmouth, Va., with Pat Robertson.

It was the first Christian talk show ever attempted and for several years he and his wife Tammy, appeared on their own "Jim and Tammy Show," a nationally syndicated children's program produced at CBN.

Rev. and Mrs. Bakker with their two children, Tammy Sue and Jamie Charles reside in Charlotte, N.C.

Their presentations will be at 10:15 a.m., 3:30 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. during their schedule of appearances.

Jimmy Swaggart, television-rdio evangelist and gospel singer, will continue the summer program at 7:15 each evening from Thursday, July 10, through Sunday, July 13. According to the directors of the camp, which is located three miles south of Carlinville on Route 100, services will be held each day at 10:15 a.m., 3:30 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. and are free of charge to the public in the air conditioned auditorium. Food and lodging are available.

For more information those interested are advised to write to Family Camp, P.O. Box 225, Carlinville, Ill. 62901 or call 217-454-9611 or 854-3261, the directors acted.

NEW ROAD DEDICATED. Officials of the Illinois Department of Transportation, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Southern Illinois Contractors Association, and Local 520 of the International Union of Operating Engineers join in snipping a ribbon crossing the new Whiteside Roadway on the University campus, which connects Circle Drive and Bluff Road on the campus. The product of a training program for operating engineers, the road was provided without tax funds through the cooperation of the agencies supporting the Joint Apprenticeship and Training Program. Clipping the ribbon to open the road are, from the left: Harold Monrooney, state director of highways; Earl Lazerson, president of SIUE; Michael P. Keeley Jr., president of the SICA; and Jerry Wray Sr., business manager of Local 520. Also involved in the program was the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

Governor has bill to hike senior circuit breaker aid

Representative Sam W. Wolf (D-Granite City) reported Tuesday that the Illinois Senate approved and sent to the Governor a major Democratic senior citizen tax relief bill which would broaden eligibility for the circuit breaker program and create the "Utility Users Refund."

House Bill 3204, on which Wolf was a co-sponsor, and which was primarily sponsored by Representatives John Sharp (D-Stanton), Representative Edmund Kuraowicz (D-Chicago), and Representative Woods Bowman (D-Chicago), passed the Senate on a 44 to 9 vote. Senator Richard M. Daley (D-Chicago) was the Senate sponsor of the bill.

"These circuit breaker changes are long overdue for senior citizens who have been hard hit by inflation," Wolf said. "It would appear that Governor Thompson would be very foolish to think of vetoing this badly needed tax relief bill."

Some of the highlights of what the bill does are as follows:

- Raises the maximum qualifying annual household income for the circuit breaker to $12,000.
- Increases the maximum basic grant to $700.
- Lowers the circuit breaker trigger to 3.5 percent of income rent or property taxes must exceed that percent to qualify for circuit breaker help.
- Allows Public Aid recipients to receive up to $55.00 a month in cash assistance with no penalty on circuit breaker grants.
- Creates a fuel cost adjustment of up to 75 percent of the increased energy costs for persons who qualify for circuit breaker relief.
- "The 1975 circuit breaker program will be restored to its original level by this legislation," Wolf said.
- "In 1975 the circuit breaker program paid out $124 million in relief, yet in 1980 it will provide only $92 million. This legislation will provide an additional $32 million in relief in the year of 1981," Wolf indicated.

Sponsors Sharp and Bowman who conceived the "Utility Users Refund Program," said it will account for $17.8 million of the additional $32 million in circuit breaker relief.

"For the elderly and disabled who live on fixed incomes this program could prove essential to their survival," Sharp said.

"If fuel costs are going up by more than $100 a year, those seniors who live on fixed incomes either have to turn down the heat or cut their food budgets to pay the higher utility bills," sponsors of the bill indicated. This program would relieve them of making that life-or-death decision.

"Senior citizens and the disabled have been the most adversely affected by inflation," Wolf said. "This bill should give the governor a chance to help them out in a time of extreme need."

Fishing, hunting licenses for elderly; cost 50 cents

State Representative Everett G. Steele (R-56th) has announced that Golden Years Fishing and Hunting licenses for citizens over 65 years of age were available beginning July 1st.

The license is not mandatory but only issued as a convenience for older sportsmen who need to document their age. All Illinois citizens over 65 may hunt or fish without license, according to the Illinois Department of Conservation. The Golden Years license is a lifetime license, and need not be renewed.

"DOC is making these licenses available at a charge of 50 cents per license which will cover administrative costs.

Applicants who complete the Golden Year application form must have it notarized before returning it to DOC. They must also include a recent head and shoulder photograph approximately 1 inch by 1 1/2 inches in size.

Individuals interested in applying for the special identification license may write or contact the DOC office in Springfield or any of the regional offices, Representative Steele said.

The addresses are: Department of Conservation, License Division, 605 Stratton Building, Springfield, 62706; Region One, 2612 Locust St., Sterling, 61081; Region Two, 110 James Road, Spring Grove, 60061; Region Three, Eight Henson Place, Champaign, 61820; Region Four, 34 W. Broadway, Alton, 62002; Region Five, one mile north of Benton on Route 37.

The Harmony Class of Professional Women's Club of Granite City heard a presentation by Susan Gasparovic on the newly established Alpha Center for women in Granite City.

Gasparovic is one of the members of the Center's Board who has been in charge of the center since its inception, education and building self-worth of women. The theme of BPW is "Women Helping Women."

Members were told that household items are still needed by the center and that volunteers will be needed on a continuing basis.

A business meeting followed the guest speaker called to order by the president, Rosalee Stern. A call for reports by the various committees was made with each new committee chairman expressing the duties and the goals of the respective committees for the coming business year. Any member interested in working on committees is to contact the respective chairman, Mrs. Stern added.

The club voted to send their delegates to the national BPW convention in Omaha during July. Delegates to attend are, Rosalee Stern, president, Norma Mendoza, first vice-president, and Ollie Derr, president-elect.

The next meeting of the club will be July 16 at the Officers Club of the Granite City Army Installation.

Other services include a lending library of books on childbirth, child care and breastfeeding. Additional information may be obtained by calling 931-6774.

Friendly Agers host pot-luck
The Friendly Agers of Second Baptist Church hosted a pot-luck dinner in conjunction with the monthly meeting of the group at the church last week.

Mrs. Mina Duggins presided and led the opening prayer. Members sang "Today I Will Be Happy" followed by special songs by Alice Hoffman and Patti Justice accompanied at the piano by Jack J. Phipps.

Mrs. Anna Rose gave a reading entitled, "Friendship" and the Rev. Carl Watkins presented the devotion on the topic, "Abundant Mercy and Hope." Rev. Watkins also offered the closing prayer for the sick.

During the social hour a game was played on "Name the flowers" directed by Mrs. Evelyn Smith with Mrs. Dorothy Burns winning the prize.

Thirty-five members and four guests attended the pot-luck and dinners were also delivered to church members who are ill, it was announced.

1st Baptist Bible school
First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, will hold its summer Bible school for a two-week period beginning Monday, July 7.

Classes for children between the ages of 3 and 11 years will take place from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. each weekday.

Crafts, games and stories from the Bible will be among the class activities. Refreshments also will be served daily, according to Sheila MacLaughlin, church secretary.

To conclude the series, a Parents' Night is planned Friday, July 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the church, when the youngsters will have an opportunity to show what they have learned at the school, Mrs. MacLaughlin said.

The program will feature such a display of artwork and refreshments.

All children in the community are invited to attend the classes.

TREATY SIGNED
On Aug. 5, 1963, the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union signed a treaty in which the three powers agreed to ban nuclear tests underwater, in outer space and in the atmosphere.

Making a SPLASH

There was a big splash Tuesday in Florissant, Mo.

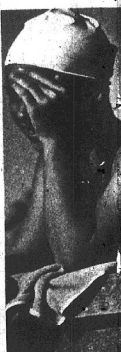

That big splash was made by a group of young swimmers and divers, some from St. Louis and some from Granite City. The Paddlers.

And they had a ball doing it. Swim meets look like controlled mayhem. People running all over the place, seemingly not knowing where they're going. But they do. They're headed for the water sooner or later.

To make things even better, Paddlers won. Again.

The Paddlers swim team demolished Bellefontaine's Eagles. Things didn't work out quite that way for the Granite City divers, however. They had to settle for an unusual tie, something that is seldom ever seen in competitive diving because of the way points are given each diver by a set of judges. Even though the temperature hovered near the 105 degree mark, it didn't seem to bother the kids. They had a way to keep cool.

GCFC is forming

GRANITE CITY — An organization to help promote amateur soccer in this area through the United States Soccer Federation, the Granite City Football Club, has recently been formed. The club hopes to contribute to area teams, help sponsor road trips and promote the sport of soccer in general.

The head of the new organization is Mike Vincent of Granite City, who also is in charge of the Tri Cities Area YMCA soccer program. "Our goal is to help sponsor at least two teams in each age group," he said. "Of course, we'll take on more, though."

At present, the GCFC helps sponsor one team in the Under-19 division, two boys and one girls team in the Under-16 age group, and one each in the Under-12 and Under-10 age groups.

The GCFC is open to any boys or girls teams in the area, including Granite City, Collinsville, Alton, Belleville and Edwardsville. Those wanting further information about the activities of the GCFC may contact Ruben Merz at 452-5500.

The entry fee is set at $150 per golfer, with all proceeds going to help the fight against Cystic Fibrosis.

Still the
around town!

Effective July 1, Bi-State's bus fares are up—the first increase in seven years—but they are still the best bargain around town! Consider this simple arithmetic on the economy of riding the bus vs. driving your car to work:

30.95¢ Automobile operating cost per mile (St. Louis)
x 20 Miles (average round trip)
$6.19
+ 1.75 Parking (downtown average)
$7.94 Auto cost per day
x 240 Working days annually
$1,905.60 Yearly cost
- 240.00 Bus cost (new fare) at $1.00 per day
x 240
$1,665.60 Savings annually!
If you park free, you still save $1,245.60!

You see...we're still going your way and actually saving you more than ever before, because of the soaring price of gasoline and just about everything else. If you are now riding the bus, keep it up—you're in on a good thing. If you've just been thinking about riding the bus, don't let the new fares scare you off—it's still the best bargain around town!

Cougars to defend title

Special to the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Fall soccer practice sessions will get underway at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Friday, Aug. 1, at Cougar Field.

was announced today by Bob Guelker, varsity coach at SIUE for the past 12 years.

The drills will be held daily, starting at 6 p.m., Guelker said. "The first day will be our annual 'photo day' and physical examination will also be given."

After all the players have had their pictures taken and their physicals completed," he said. "The players will be asked to complete their first 12-minute run of the season. This exercise will give me an idea as to how good a physical shape each candidate is in."

Winners of the 1979 NCAA Division I (Big School) national championship, Guelker's SIUE kickers will again play a 19-game regular schedule, plus three international exhibition games. The trio of exhibition games, featuring three select teams from Great Britain, will be played Aug. 15 through Aug. 23.

Two other American soccer teams, Quincy College and the University of Missouri at St. Louis (UMSL), will take part in the games with the British teams, Guelker said.

The Cougars will unveil their 1980 soccer team Friday night, Aug. 15, against the Scottish Universities' Select team, starting at 7:30 p.m. at Cougar field. Four nights later, Tuesday, Aug. 19, it will be the British Colleges' Select Eleven which will oppose SIUE, at 8 p.m., and on Saturday, Aug. 23, SIUE will take on the Universities Athletic Union Select team at 8 p.m.

Six new schools have been added to the Cougars' soccer schedule. They are: Boston University, Boston College, Texas Christian U., Harding-Simmons U., Avila College, and South Carolina U.

Again, after playing five regular games on the road before school opens, the Cougars will make their home debut against the Cowboys at Harding-Simmons U. Friday evening, Sept. 26. Fall play at SIUE begins Monday, Sept. 22.

Prior to their home opener, the Cougar kickers will play three games in an East Coast invasion, opening at Storrs, Conn., against the University of Connecticut, Wednesday, Sept. 3. On Sept. 5 and 7, SIUE will take on Boston College in that order.

After the eastern sweep, the Cougars will fly to Texas for a pair of crucial games, the first Sept. 12 against Southern Methodist U., and the second with Texas Christian U. Sept. 14.

In discussing his tough schedule, Guelker kicked around several routes he may take in replacing the three A-Americans lost from his championship eleven in the pro ranks: striker Jon Ebert, midfielder Job Bozada and defender Steve Clark. That trio had one more year of college playing time remaining.

"Steve Ebert, Bozada and Clark just can't be done," Guelker commented. "People and to forget that we also had three other key performers to graduation—Jeff Sedlacore, Dave Hulse, and Dave Hummer—who will be almost as tough to replace."

Not to mention Guelker's coaching staff will waste no time in crying for him too much because he has another bumper crop of incoming top-flight freshmen. No. 1, offensively, is the rugged, built-6'2", 200-pound, center-forward, Mike Fisher, who despite his small size, is a baseball coach (Bob) Stegengier could find somebody, that would give the kids a little incentive, things would change. They're winners in the high school season."

Wiz said that even though the players from Glen Carbon cannot participate in any more league games, they are still eligible to play on the District All-Star teams, an Illinois-Missouri all-star game is set for July 18 in St. Louis and the annual District 22 All-Star game will be played in Cahokia July 29.

Mike DeGonia singled to centerfield, putting runners on at first and third. It was time for some more "tactical baseball."

On a double-play attempt, Daily stole home and DeGonia was safe at second.

Don Ebert... Gone, but not forgotten.

High School rewrote the Missouri and St. Louis prep scoring records.

"Mike Gauvain will be another top candidate for Ebert's job," predicted Guelker. His own son, Tim, will be moved from midfield to sweeperback. At the midfield berth, Guelker sees Mike Twellman, Steve Gauvain and Leo Bourneuf. Expected to help the always sturdy SIUE defensive unit will be Greg Fisher, who despite his small size, is a giant on defense, and Chris Kenney, a back.

The wings, of course, will be in capable hands: the veteran Matt Malloy, who scored all three goals in the Cougars' championship victory over Clemson U., and Steve Schell. Three other veterans returning to defense will be senior Joey Howe and sophomores Tom Groark and Pat Malloy, all three above average players.

A good sleeper for offensive duties is Tysua

Chiwanga (correct), an African exchange student, who has been working hard since the end of the last soccer season to prepare for his chance at a forward berth.

And, finally, the Cougars' two returning goalkeepers, Ed Gettemer and Mark Downard, will be used as they were last year: alternating in the nets. Back, too, is Terry Tushet, a four-year letter winner on defense and probably the most underrated Cougar kicker.

on a bad throw) and scored on Cope's single.

Then came the eighth. Mark Linhart singled and went to second on a bunt by Sykes. Then Bates stroled to the plate and stroked a triple to the wall in rightfield. Suicide time again. Enter Mr. Cope.

Cope got his third RBI when he squeezed in Bates, making the score 4-2. Cope then stole second. After centerfielder Bob Ford fied into, Rich Daly doubled into rightfield scoring Cope.

Mike DeGonia singled to centerfield, putting runners on at first and third. It was time for some more "tactical baseball."

On a double-play attempt, Daily stole home and DeGonia was safe at second.

Charlie Daniels, Kenny Loggins in MRF spotlight

The Charlie Daniels Band will perform at the Mississippi River Festival on Saturday, July 5 at 6:30 p.m. Also scheduled to appear at the MRF on Tuesday, July 8, is singer-songwriter Kenny Loggins with special guests Firefall beginning at 7:30 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Formerly of the successful rock 'n' roll twosome Loggins and Messina, Kenny Loggins has seven albums—two of which were certified platinum and five gold.

"It was a creative decision," Kenny concludes. "There was no problem with it, and M. There was a moment that came very similar to a love affair, where you realize that you are you and your partner is not separate from you."

"It was time to go on to other things... I probably never will put Loggins and Messina completely behind me and there's no great demand to kiss the ghost good-bye. I'm proud of it. It did then and it is not running from that."

"I lean on the Loggins and Messina material because as much as I would on older material all those years. They are my songs, and I am proud of them."

Any lingering suspicions nurtured in the hearts and minds of devout skeptics about Kenny Loggins' ability to cut it on his own have certainly, and quite convincingly, been laid to rest.

In the last two years, with two platinum solo albums, "Celebrate Me Home" and "Nightwatch," plus the chart-topping single "When Love Takes Over," and a co-writer for the Doobie Brothers' "What a Fool Believes," the lanky singer-songwriter is firmly established in the ranks of contemporary American music.

With the release of "Keep the Fire," his third solo album, Loggins solidifies his position with another collection of memorable melodies and insightful lyrics welded to a new-found musical authority. Kenny's musical style has evolved into a pleasing blend of rock and jazz, with a quite appealing intensity and sincerity that's hard to resist.

The group Firefall made their grand entrance into the music industry with several big hits off their 1979 album "Firefall," including "It Doesn't Matter," "Livin' on a Prayer," "Cinderella" and "Mexico." Firefall's latest album "Luna Sea" has the hit "Just Remember I Love You."

Members of the group are: Larry Burnett—electric and acoustic guitars, lead vocals; Rick Roberts—acoustic guitar and lead vocals; Jack Bartley—lead guitar, electric slide, acoustic guitar, harmony vocals; David Muse—keyboards, organ, tenor sax, flutes, harmonica, moog synthesizer; Michael Audis—bass, harmonica, vocals; and Michael Clarke—drums.

Tickets for the Kenny Loggins and Firefall concert are $9.50 for reserved and $7 for lawn seating. More information is available by calling 1-692-0100.

Troop 7 visit Camp Sunnen

Troop 7 scouts of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, spent the week of June 15th thru June 20th at Camp Sunnen, near Potosi, Mo.

Before departing for the campsite, Afton, Mo., 20 Scouts attended the troop's spring communion Mass at St. Joseph's Church. Scout leaders for Mass included Mark Mainridge, Kevin Williamson, Steve Kusmierczak and Richard Schierling.

At camp, the scouts participated in camp-wide retreat ceremonies and the Order of the Arrow Call-Out Ceremony. An Indian guide served as Order of the Arrow Member during the ceremony.

Troop activities at camp included shooting at the rifle range, canoeing, taking part in the mudcave expedition, skeet shooting, outpost camping, rock repelling and archery.

Darin Yurek of Panther Patrol was the only scout to attend rifle camp. David Gushleff and Reuben Garcia participated in the one-mile swim.

This was the fourth time for Reuben Garcia to obtain the one-mile swim emblem. This emblem shows that the scout is preparing for the possible emergency in the water and that he is a strong swimmer and is working toward physical fitness.

At the close of summer camp, Troop 7 performed campfire skills. Cobra Patrol and Panther Patrol were chosen as honor patrols.

Each patrol scored a perfect 200. Judging was based on dining area, tents, campsite area, food preparation and patrol spirit. Panther Patrol was recognized as the most improved patrol.

Scout Jim Whitsell was the winner of the troop's contest for the most merit badges and skill awards earned at camp. Whitsell earned five merit badges and two skill awards. He received a scout emblem belt buckle.

All scouts attending camp in the three patrols, Flaming Arrow, Cobra and Panther, earned at least one merit badge, bringing the total merit badges earned to 45, a record for the troop.

Camping—Richard Schierling, David Gushleff, Tony Jordan and Jim Whitsell. Communications—Mark Mainridge. Swimming—Mark Mainridge and Phil Kimbrel. Citizenship—Raymond Guenther. First aid—Raymond Guenther. Cooking—Jim Whitsell.

Scout advancements at camp were: Tenderfoot—Kevin Williamson; and first class scout—Jim Whitsell. Camp Sunnen provided outpost camping, and overnight camping experiences within summer camp. Scouts attending one of these adventures were: wilderness survival—Steve Kusmierczak, and Phil Kimbrel. Aquatics—David Gushleff, Mike Mainridge, Richard Schierling, Mark Mainridge, Kevin Williamson, Reuben Garcia, Tony Jordan, Steve Falbe, Charles Alexander and Frank Scaturro. Indian—Jeff Kittel, William Falbe and Jim Harper. Mountain man—Jeff Kittel, William Falbe, Phil Kimbrel and Jim Whitsell.

How to be cooler

The origin of the necktie is occasionally brought up, often in attack on why men have allowed themselves to be hornswaggled into wearing "a piece of cloth tied around their necks."

Women, of course, do not always dress more comfortably than men, and in a kind of seasonal ambivalence prompted by the national need to conserve energy, the U.S. General Services Administration is encouraging a discarding—or at least loosening—of ties and other sartorial bonds by federal employees.

The government is the nation's single largest consumer of energy, much of which goes into cooling the 10,000 federal buildings GSA controls.

Following President Carter's directive that minimum cooling be used in those buildings, GSA has urged its federal workers to wear short-sleeved shirts and slacks with sandals and no hose.

Next coolest, the agency says, would be a loose blouse and slacks with sandals and no hose.

In a more formal setting, GSA recommends for women "a dress with hose."

On your way to work, and from lunch or other trips during the day, take it easy. If you work up a sweat rushing around, you may stay uncomfortable all day.

Keep your work area cooler by shutting out sunlight through drawn blinds and/or drapes.

"Sunlight can raise room temperatures many degrees in a few minutes," GSA informs. Also, draw blinds and drapes when leaving for the day so the office is especially if the morning sun comes in the windows—will be cooler the next work day. When air conditioning is on, keep windows closed "so you cool the office, not the outdoors."

See that office air vents are open, properly set and not blocked by books, boxes or furniture. If no air is coming from the vents, call whoever is responsible for their operation.

Moving air makes you cooler; open hall and interior doors to facilitate air flow between rooms.

When not needed, turn off anything that emits heat, such as typewriters, calculators, and coffee makers.

GSA offers another reminder: your work area may have different temperatures at different times of the day. Take several readings over a 24-hour period to determine if this is true. Just because your area may be uncomfortably warm at one particular time of the day, does not necessarily mean something is wrong. It may be that the engineers call "solar gain," or that peak use of machines such as computers at a certain time raises the temperature temporarily.

So, the hope is that throughout government—and elsewhere as well—the ties that bind are being loosened for more comfortable, less energy-consuming environment.

Vandals damage heavy equipment

Three pieces of heavy equipment, owned by the Metro-East Sanitary District and left at work sites between St. Clair Avenue and Victory Drive, were damaged by vandals, Bob Sheld reported at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Three responsible pushed out safety glass and broke a windshield cable on an Inley crane; removed the shift control knobs and battery caps on a John Deere bulldozer and broke a glass gauge cover and stole a control knob from a second bulldozer.

Madison Club plans events

The Madison City and Democrat Auxiliary met at the Madison Recreation Center with President Zella Niehaus presiding. All members gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Chaplain Elizabeth Yankoff read the evening prayer and then asked all members to remain standing in silent prayer in memory of the late John S. Black.

The club will operate a soda and popcorn stand during Alpine Days in Madison, scheduled for July 11 and 12 at Third Street and Madison Avenue. Members may call Mrs. Niehaus for a work period, it was announced.

Members will also charter a bus to attend Democrat Day in Springfield, Ill., on Friday, Aug. 8. The bus will leave the Recreation Center at approximately 10 a.m. and return later that night. Any member wishing to ride on the bus, which is free to members, should contact Mrs. Niehaus or Mrs. Connie Almos. The bus will seat only 47 persons, the president added.

A discussion was held on the upcoming Black Cat Dance which is held annually in the fall. Members will contact local businessmen in the near future for their aid and/or donations. Mrs. Niehaus reported.

Honorees for the July 21 meeting will be Mary Bucherich, Connie Almos and Eleanor Armour.

Charge 'cyclist on three counts

A cyclist riding a dirt bike, allegedly without eye protection or a state registration and lights on the machine, crossed Maryville Road on Woodland Avenue at 10 a.m. Tuesday and was followed by a squad car with its red lights and siren activated.

The officer said the cyclist turned north on Vine Boulevard and sped away, turning west on Dawn Place to Wabash Avenue.

The rider then cut across a plowed field into Hamilton Drive.

A search of the area was made and Dennis Coggins, 18, of 2121 Hamilton Drive, was arrested at his home and charged with fleeing and attempting to elude police, not having a valid registration and being in violation of classification.

He was released to appear for a hearing Aug. 8.

News notes

Illinois State Bureau of the Budget Director Robert Mandeville last week said a sharply deteriorating economic outlook since the Fiscal Year 1981 Budget was presented in March is reducing anticipated state revenues, while increasing spending pressure. The expected $400-$450 million in reserve in the state treasury at the end of fiscal year 1980 could play a crucial role in maintaining the state's financial well-being during the recession.

According to Brad Eulizier, director of the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals, Illinois mines produced 5,585,126 tons of coal during May. There were 2,306,973 tons mined in 31 surface mines and 3,278,152 tons mined in 31 underground mines.

NOSE IS BROKEN. A cliff Wadé, 1731 Olive St., suffered a broken nose when a youth punched him at Wadé's home about 3:45 a.m. Saturday. Wadé said two youths came to his door and asked him if he would purchase some beer for them. When Wadé refused, one boy punched Wadé's nose, breaking it, he reported. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Injuries haven't halted girl jockey

By JOHN SCULLY
Injuries are as much a part of a jockey's life as that of a professional football player. One rider who can attest to that statement is Margaret "Red" O'Neill.

She has had more than her share of injuries but still has managed to bounce back. The 25-year-old rider received her jockey's license in the fall of 1979 and rode twice that year. That winter, Margaret went to Florida and it was there that she suffered her first setback. While she was bringing a horse onto the track for a morning workout, the horse suddenly flipped. "Red" landed on her feet but felt something snap. She was taken to the hospital, and her injury was diagnosed as torn cartilage in her knee.

The Pattonville High School graduate was told that the knee should be operated on, but she put off the operation until her return to St. Louis. She then had the good fortune of meeting Dr. Stanley London, who has helped many baseball and football stars with his surgery and therapy.

After taking new X-rays of Margaret's knee, he determined that she had no cartilage damage, but a severe muscle tear. He prescribed different exercises for her to do to help with her recovery.

One was to lift a bucket of sand with her leg while sitting on a chair. Starting with six pounds of sand, she gradually increased it to 35 pounds.

"Red" was required to do the various exercises four times a day. With patience and dedication, she slowly regained the strength in her leg and resumed riding about six months after her accident.

The former St. Ann, Mo., resident rode her first winner aboard Beusera in the late summer, last year at Fairmont Park.

Just when things were looking up for Margaret, as she was getting some "live" mounts, it all came crashing down on Oct. 24.

While making a big move at the head of the stretch with Tanaval's Pride, she suddenly found herself on the ground with horses rushing over the top of her.

Tanaval's Pride had broken down and fallen, throwing Margaret heavily into the dirt. She had horsehoe prints on her leg and shoulder from a trailing horse that had run over her.

Sitting on the track with her whip in hand in a dazed condition, never losing consciousness, she thought she was all right.

She was taken to the hospital as a precautionary measure, and ended up staying there for five days while tests were being conducted. She had a serious concussion, and for the following two months she suffered severe headaches.

At first, the headaches

would last all day. Gradually, however, they disappeared completely. She was not afraid to go back to riding. That was proven several weeks ago when a horse she was riding, Sunny Marlina, flipped at the starting gate.

"Red" just brushed herself off and climbed aboard, unperturbed at the incident.

"Because I like what I'm doing."

Don't let Red's size, 103 pounds, fool you. Her arms are surprisingly muscular, from her years of exercising horses.

And even though lack of strength is one of the factors some trainers cite as a reason for not using a girl jockey, Margaret may well be stronger than some of her male counterparts, who are sometimes weak from constant dieting.

Margaret was taught her initial riding skills by Colonel Charles Bradley, who himself rode in the Olympics.

The retired Air Force colonel trained hunters and jumpers, and tutored many equestrians, including actress Jennifer O'Neill (no relation to Margaret).

Red's first job at the track was with Ron Goodridge. She took care of eight to ten horses, while still finding time to gallop a few horses a day.

Trainer Greg Osterloh gave her pointers on her riding. She is now free-lancing — exercising and riding for various trainers.

Her day starts about 6 a.m., riding usually between six and eight horses a morning.

Finished at 10:30 at the track, she is now working at a farm in the afternoon and then riding at night.

It doesn't leave much time for a social life but she's happy. And, as she puts it, "It's what I want to do."

State education post to former area pupil

Dr. Donald G. Gill, a professional educator who served 24 years in Illinois' education system as a teacher, administrator, and professor, was appointed Monday by the State Board of Education to be state superintendent of education. Gill, 52, becomes Illinois' second appointed state superintendent of education, replacing Joseph M. Cronin, who resigned to become president of the Massachusetts Higher Education Assistance Corp. Gill will return to his native state after having served as superintendent of one of the nation's 100 largest school systems, the Volusia County (Florida) Schools.

Dr. Gill's broad range of experience in Illinois schools gives him excellent first-hand knowledge of this educational system," said State Board Chairman Donald F. Muirhead of Decatur.

"He also brings the added dimension of having administered one of the largest school systems in the nation.

"Dr. Gill is uniquely equipped to analyze the needs of Illinois education, to compare them with another large state and to work with the State Board, the governor and the legislature in meeting those needs."

Gill's career includes teaching in Waverly and Taylorville, where he became principal of an elementary and a junior high school. His performance as principal earned him awards for conspicuous services to the profession in 1960 and 1961 from the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

At Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, Ill., Gill served as assistant director and then director of the Laboratory Schools, and as professor of education.

The Illinois Association of School Administrators in 1973 awarded him a presidential citation for outstanding service to public education and the profession of school administration.

Gill served on an ad hoc education subcommittee for the Sixth Illinois Constitutional Convention, and later chaired a committee to prepare guidelines for former Governor Richard Ogilvie on the establishment of a State Board of Education.

All of Dr. Gill's formal education was in Illinois schools. He attended public elementary and secondary schools in O'Fallon, where he was born.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Illinois College in Jacksonville and his master's and doctorate in education from the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana.

Dr. Gill and his wife, Betty Jo, have a son, Bruce, 26, and two daughters, Ann, 23, and Gay, 19.

He will assume his duties as state superintendent Aug. 1.

Dr. Nelson F. Ashline, the current executive deputy superintendent, will serve as interim superintendent until that time.

Fireworks will blind 50 Illinois youngsters if statistics prevail

If statistics from the past can be used to predict the future, Independence Day 1980 will be a day of pain and anguish for at least 50 Illinois families, according to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness (ISPB).

Sometime during the July 4 holiday, Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the ISPB, predicts exploding firecrackers, red hot sparklers, roman candles and other carelessly handled pyrotechnics will seriously damage the eyesight of 50 or more youngsters.

Britton explains that this is an average compiled over the years by the Illinois Society, a non-profit organization founded in 1916 to fight needless blindness throughout the state.

In 1979, he says, eye doctors in Illinois reported 62 serious injuries to the society. In 1978, there were 48 injuries, most to the cornea or "outer window" of the eye.

The toll will be just as high or even higher in 1980 unless parents begin to realize the menace, Britton believes. A strict law in Illinois regulating the sale and private use of dangerous fireworks hasn't managed to stop the flow of illegal fireworks, he adds.

Expanding firecrackers cause the most injuries, but sparklers, where the end of the sparkler wire can reach temperatures in excess of 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, have also caused many serious injuries.

This year, Britton warns parents, ban home fireworks from your holiday plans. "Don't let one explosive moment of fun bring a lifetime of darkness into your family."

Civil War slides shown at meeting

The Madison County Genealogical and Historical Society met at the home of Karl and Lynn Krus, 2608

Each member brought the others up to date on his or her research for the past month. Following the meeting, a slide show was given.

One series of slides was on the original Jamestown colony in Virginia. The second series was on famous Civil War battles. Many of those present have ancestors who fought in the Civil War.

The meeting concluded with refreshments and a social period.

July's meeting will take place at the Joyner home, 1401 Benton St., July 18 at 7:30. Those interested in genealogy, or who would like to learn, are welcome to attend, Joyner said.

Outstanding Achievers

Miss Long, top Achiever at the Madison-Venice JA center, was extremely active during the first year of the new center, sponsored by Granite City Steel and located within the OATH building on State Street in Madison. The daughter of Mrs. Betty Munk, she was praised for her enthusiasm and dedication.

Ira Banks of Granite City Steel said,

"She excelled in her position as a JA vice-president of administration and has also received Achiever awards."

A resident of 182 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, she plans to attend Southern Illinois University at Carbondale this fall.

Miss Jones, who will attend SIU at Edwardsville as a presidential scholar in the field of engineering, was active at the Granite City JA Center on Wabash Avenue for three years.

Each year, she excelled in the position of vice-president of finances within her JA companies, sponsored by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. Her companies for the last two years were selected as best at the Center. She earned sales awards each year, including recognition for $500 sales in each of the last two years, and won the Granite City sales contest.

She captured second place in Parent-Teacher Association scholarship award competition.

Miss Jones also was recognized as an outstanding sophomore and junior in the program, received perfect attendance and Achiever awards, and won a Dale Carnegie JA scholarship. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard (Rose) Jones, she resides at 835 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Museum and courthouse are visited

Troop 7 scouts of St. Joseph's Catholic Church took part in an outing to St. Louis last week.

Scouts were transported by Bi-State bus and visited the museum of Science and Natural History, Ralston Purina Co., the Old Courthouse and the U.S.S. Inaugural.

At the Museum of Science and Natural History, Scouts attended the Family Science Fun Theater and viewed the presentation, "Christmas in June. Toys and games of years past were shown and education aspects of toys and games were explained.

At the Science Building, scouts visited the Fun With Physics Hall, which featured exhibits to ride, to talk to, and even a talking wall where concepts in physics were graphically explained. Scouts experienced the vibrations of an earthquake by means of an earthquake simulator. Color slides revealed to them the terror of a trembling earth.

Curious and yesterday's exhibits of roller coasters were also viewed at the Museum. Scouts discovered what kept the coasters on the track and what keeps riders in the cars.

At the Natural History Building, an authentic Egyptian mummy were viewed, along with exhibits which helped explain the culture of the American Indian. The Indian Hall exhibit featured 21 exhibits of artifacts found in the St. Louis area.

Evolution exhibits also provided a chronological walk through the major eras of geological time.

At Ralston Purina Company, the scouts ate lunch (people food), and were treated to a short tour of the purchasing department and the binney department.

At the Old Courthouse, scouts took part in a guided tour which featured the Trading Post. Here, Scouts saw the events of the trading posts that were common in the St. Louis area in the early years of the city.

The two remaining courtrooms in the courthouse were also visited. They found that the courtroom used for the famous Dred Scott Case was no longer a courtroom.

The U.S.S. Inaugural, a veteran U.S. Navy minesweeper from World War II, on the riverfront near the arch, was the last stop on the outing. The scouts toured the minesweeper and were permitted to move her and shoot her guns.

Scouts attending were senior patrol leader, Steve Kusmierczak, Flaming Arrow Patrol members Rouben Garcia, David Gushel, Mike Mainridge, Tony Jordan and Jim Whitsell, Cobra Patrol members William Falbe, Jeff Kittel and Mark Mainridge and Panther Patrol members Steve Falbe, Karl Markovich, Kevin McKee, Frank Scaturro and Raymond Guehrer.

Hurt in car-truck collision

Donald C. Hurlbrink, 44, of 2435 Woodlawn Ave., sustained pains in the back at 4:10 p.m. Monday and was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The injuries occurred when Hurlbrink's auto, headed north on Nameoki Road, was stopped to make a left turn into Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and was struck from the rear by a tractor-trailer truck operated by Danny K. Fish of Barry, Ill.

Hurlbrink was released from the medical center after treatment.

New way to diagnose lung problems

(Illinois Lung Association)

"Day after day our lungs function—silently, so we believe—to keep us alive. Actually, specific lung sounds can signify health or disease—to a trained ear."

"For years, doctors have asked patients to open their mouths and breathe or to cough while the doctor listens to the sounds from the lungs with a stethoscope. Until now, though, there has been little uniformity about classifying the sounds the doctor hears. They are easier to recognize than describe, and descriptions have been confusing. Now, new bioengineering techniques using computers make it possible to record and analyze lung sounds more accurately.

The intensity of lung sounds in normal people is relatively standard. And the sounds can be detected only in specific areas. Sounds heard outside these areas indicate disease. In patients with long-term lung disease, the intensity of the sounds varies from one area of the chest to another. Patients with chronic bronchitis tend to have noisy chests. Continuous sounds usually reflect abnormalities of the airways.

Low-pitched continuous noises are common and often change after coughing. Wheezes are also heard, particularly at the end of exhalation.

Discontinuous, interrupted, explosive sounds called crackles often begin as the person with chronic bronchitis starts to inhale.

In sharp contrast, people who suffer from emphysema, which involves destruction of the tiny air sacs in the lungs, have sharply decreased lung sounds. Often, there is a total absence of these sounds.

Venice appointments made by Mayor Echols

City appointments for 1980-81 were made by Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols at the Tuesday evening city council meeting.

There were no major changes from last year, with the exception of Larry Hartman, who replaced his late brother, Harry Hartman, as city attorney. The council unanimously concurred in the appointments.

Appointments are as follows:

William Meehan, fire chief; Willie Dumas, assistant fire chief; Thomas Ritt, fire truck driver; Farris Smith, police chief; Thomas Fields, bridge manager; Richard Gorman, bridge office manager; Alfred Crawford, bridge maintenance superintendent; Thomas Scaturro street superintendent; Clarence Bradley, assistant street superintendent; Pavnice Riggs, acting controller; James Sands, building inspector.

Charles Mize, health inspector; Joseph Meehan, humane officer; Larry Seldon, city hall custodian; Zenitha Woods, assistant custodian; Benjamin Honorable, emergency preparedness director; Jake Young, secretary police pension fund.

William McGarrhon, Jack Tolliver, Roderick

Baader Sr., all boiler inspectors.

Tim Bennett, Ed Johnson and Earnest Davenport, police commissioners.

Mayor Echols also made the aldermanic committee appointments. He explained that there would be three aldermen on each committee and where only two names are given the third member will be the, yet unnamed First Ward alderman.

The first alderman named will be the chairman of the committee:

Street and Alley committee: John Ervin and George Lewis.

Bridge: Lewis, Hank A. Svezia and Charles Haynes.

Sanitation: Svezia, Phillip Daniels, and Victor Valentine Sr.

Light: Daniels, Haynes and George Maniaracino.

Building: Haynes, Maniaracino and Daniels.

Injuries were minor, but traffic delayed

Courtney Rennaux, 31, of 2527 Jordan Ave., was treated at 1:04 p.m. Tuesday complaining of back pain following an auto accident on I-270 that tied up traffic for several hours.

Rennaux is a Granite City Emergency Medical Technician.

Rennaux's 1975 Chevrolet auto was stopped due to a flat tire in the 1000 block of I-270, 1,000 feet east of the River exit, according to St. Louis police.

A truck loaded with 7,000 bricks was approaching the stopped vehicle and swerved in an attempt to avoid hitting the auto. The brick truck turned over spilling the bricks on the highway.

A semi-trailer truck following the brick truck tried to swerve, but according to police had no where to go and struck the stopped auto and also overturned.

Clifford Stahlhut, of Edwardsville, who was the driver of the semi-truck was taken to Edwardsville General Hospital where he was treated and released.

The driver of the semi-truck Robert Mullins was reportedly uninjured. No address for Mullins was given.

Thomas Fields, bridge manager of the McKinley Toll Bridge, Venice, reported that due to the accident many vehicles were re-routed by police over the McKinley bridge.

Charge man, 22; runs from police

Responding to a report that a fight was taking place in an alley between Monroe and Lee avenues at 11:50 p.m. Monday, officers saw two people run across the 200 block of Lee Avenue.

While an officer was placing a 16-year-old youth in a squad car for a curfew violation, a man who was seen standing nearby started running between two houses and was chased by police.

Found lying underneath a vehicle in the rear yard of a house was Rick L. Parks, 22, of 2841 Iowa St., who was charged with disorderly conduct.

Witnesses told police the driver of the truck, traveling west on St. Clair Avenue, made a wide turn north on Nameoki Road, with the vehicle jumping the median and the driver apparently lost control.

The truck crossed the traffic lanes and entered the parking area of the former Smilin' Lou Liquor, striking the building, and then continued on hitting the Richardson auto.

The driver denied operating the truck and refused to tell officers what happened.

Trindle was charged with not having a driver's license, reckless driving and violation of curfew and was owned by a Madison man.

Lorraine Peach and Jim Valencia are wed

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on May 24 of Miss Lorraine Peach, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peach, 2832 Dogwood Drive, and Jim Valencia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Valencia, 2415 Benton St.

Burning tapers in aisle candelabra illuminated the sanctuary for the 6:30 evening service performed by the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Netz.

Organist Alan Milster played a program of selected wedding music and accompanied Becks Soden as she sang, "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Peach escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a long white satin gown with lace bodice and full length sleeves accented with lace motifs.

Lace appliques were repeated on the full skirt. Her veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a lace cap and she held a bouquet of blue carnations and white daisies tied with long blue ribbon streamers. She also wore a single strand of pearls given to her by her mother.

Honor attendant Judy Cagle chose a pale blue sleeveless dress. She wore a circlet of baby's breath in her hair and carried an arrangement of blue carnations with white daisies.

The bridesmaids Pamela Peach, a sister of the bride, Teresa Gaudreault and Lorraine Valencia, the groom's sister, selected blue print sleeveless gowns and also wore baby's breath in their hair. Their bouquets were identical to the honor attendant. Jennifer Valencia and Bobby Hutchinson, cousins of the groom, served as flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a white frock worn over a hoop and carried a small bouquet of blue carnations intermingled with white daisies.

David Wood attended the groom as best man. Groomsman included Russ Schuessler, Bobby Wood and Mike Gancheff.

Gene Hoffman, a cousin of the groom, and Charlie Bates served as ushers and candlelighters.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Peach appeared in a formal blue and lavender floor gown complemented with a long sheer cape. The groom's mother was attired in a floor length pastel blue dress with three quarter length sleeves. Both wore blue and white corsages.

Guests attended a reception at the American Legion Hall in Venice after the ceremony.

Lori Jones presided over the guest book. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Valencia hosted a

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT CHINN whose wedding took place at St. John United Church of Christ. Formerly Teri Lynn Meagher, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smick, 722 Twenty-sixth St.

Teri Meagher becomes Mrs. Robert L. Chinn

Floral arrangements in rainbow hues adorned the altar and burning tapers in hurricane glass lamps illuminated the sanctuary of St. John United Church of Christ for the wedding on May 2 of Teri Lynn Meagher and Robert Lee Chinn II.

The Rev. Dr. Kenneth Netz performed a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Organist Alan Milster accompanied Jennifer Sage as she sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smick, 722 Twenty-sixth St. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Josephine Chinn and Robert Lee Chinn, both of Granite City.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Meagher wore a full length white organza over a fitted bodice and high collar accented with lace and pearls. Full puffed sleeves were lightly buttoned at the wrist.

Her full skirt was enhanced with lace trim and worn over a hoop with chapel train attached at the waist with a bow and streamers.

She wore a fingertip veil of bridal illusion secured to a camellia headpiece traced with Chantilly lace. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of carnations, red roses and greenery tied with white streamers.

Honor attendant Kathy Hadley chose a long pink veil gown created with a fitted bodice and spaghetti straps, triple tiered skirt trimmed with white lace, complemented with a lace edged shawl.

The bridesmaids, Jo Lynn Roberts, a cousin of the bride, Sheila Smick, a sister of the bride, Denise Sandy, and Pamela Sue David, the bride's aunt, were attired in identical styled dresses in shades of blue, yellow, green and orchid.

Each wore a sweetheart rose in her hair and held long stem pink roses.

Stephanie Lamkin and Kathy Chinn, nieces of the groom, and Michael Chinn, the groom's nephew, served as flower girls and ringbearer.

The girls were dressed in pink floral voile frocks and each held a basket of rainbow colored flowers.

Paul Labrot and Dori Chinn served as candlelighters.

The groom chose his brother, Bill Chinn, as best man. Groomsman included Michael Chinn, another brother, Larry and Jake York and Ralph Barker.

Paul Labrot seated the guests.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception held in the church fellowship hall. Miss Dori Chinn, presided over the guest book.

The bride's mother selected a peach floor length A-line gown with matching lace over-bodice and peach accessories. Mrs. Chinn, the groom's mother, was attired in blue formal length A-line style dress and also wore matching accessories. Both mothers wore white rose corsages tinted to complement their gowns.

A rehearsal dinner was served at Pete and Mary's hosted by the groom's mother.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas the newlyweds are now residing in Granite City. Both young people are South High School graduates. The bride is employed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center as a unit secretary and her husband works at the medical center as a medical surgical technologist. He also graduated from Belleville Area College in May.

MR. AND MRS. JIM VALENCIA.

They were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at St. John United Church of Christ. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peach, 2832 Dogwood Drive, the bride is the former Lorraine Peach.

Homemakers hear diabetes program

The Trio Unit of Madison County Home Extension met Tuesday at Hope Lutheran Church with 23 members answering roll call and giving the pledge to the flag, led by Pat Mitchell, chairman.

Two guests, Lorraine Hall and Mary Townse, were introduced.

A very interesting and informative lesson "Understanding Diabetes" was presented by Arminde Lee and Rose Kayser. Helen Roemer, retiring chairman, was presented with a painted plate entitled "The Shipbuilder" from the Norman Rockwell Collection.

MR. AND MRS. LINUS SCHMID.

They exchanged wedding vows at Mount Zion Baptist Church. The bride is the former Teri Lynn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hill, 2304 Wilson Ave.

Mt. Zion scene of Schmid-Hill wedding

Miss Teri Lynn Hill became the bride of Linus David Schmid in an evening ceremony on May 31 at Mount Zion General Baptist Church.

The Rev. Jewel Morris, an uncle of the groom, officiated, at the 6 o'clock double ring ceremony. Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hill, reside at 2304 Wilson Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Linus R. Schmid, 719 Franklin Ave.

Randy Rodgers, a cousin of the bride, sang "Time in a Bottle," "There is Love" and "Colour My World." Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal length Chantilly lace gown designed with a Queen Anne neckline, bishop sleeves and a full skirt accented with a ruffled flounce at the hemline.

She wore a floor length veil trimmed in Chantilly lace and held a bouquet of white roses and blue blossoms tied with white lace streamers. Attending the bride were Janet Marie Elmore, Mrs. Rita Petty, Mrs. Janet Nease and Mrs. Ralonda Willis, both cousins of the bride; Debra Branson and Miss Sheila Schmid, sisters of the groom.

The brides were groomed in light blue organza dresses fashioned with off the shoulder bodices, molded empire waistlines and a satin ribbon tie belt. A fully gathered flounce encircled the hemlines and was caught up at the back to create a bustle effect.

Each attendant wore a wide brim hat and held a floral arrangement of blue carnations, white daisies and pink baby's breath festooned with blue streamers.

Sherry Willis, the bride's cousin, served as flower girl.

Lynn-Cullison wedding in Dugger, Indiana

Carrie Alice Cullison and Harvey William Lynn were united in marriage in a 3 o'clock candlelight ceremony Sunday afternoon, June 8, at the First Methodist Church of Dugger, Ind.

Miss Cullison formerly resided in Collinsville and is a retired Frohardt School teacher.

The Rev. Roger Cullison, father of the bride, officiated at the double ring service before an arch decorated with greenery and white bows.

Special music was provided by Mrs. Gail Stanbaugh at the organ. Mrs. Phyllis Walters sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because," "Whither Thou Goest," "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride is the eldest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Cullison of Dugger, and the groom is the son of the late Ernest and Maggie Lynn.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over chiffon taffeta. The lace bodice was accented with a Queen Anne neckline and featured bishop sleeves. The full skirt extended into a sweeping chapel train with rows of ruffles of lace. Her chapel length veil of silk illusion was also trimmed with lace and secured by a caplet of seed pearls and lace.

She carried a cascade of pink roses, stephanotis and baby's breath with pink and white ribbons.

Matrons of honor were Mrs. Harriet Prater and Mrs. Mary Marks, sisters of the bride and Tammi Prater

Benjamin Asbeck was the ringbearer. The groom chose Charles Emery Booker as best man. Charles Edward Crabb, Christopher James Hill, the bride's brother, John Schmid, a brother of the groom, Kevin and James Rainwater, Leslie Whittington and Bill Letterty, the bride's cousins, completed the corps of groomsman and ushers.

Miss Sheila Staats and Miss Gena Donathan attended the guest book. Miss Sandra Willis, a cousin of the bride, served the wedding cake and candlelighters were Donna and Kenneth Willis, cousins of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmid, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home. The bride is employed at Duke Manufacturing Co. and the groom works at Leffon Iron and Metals Co. They are residing in Granite City.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey William Lynn whose wedding was solemnized at the First United Methodist Church, Dugger, Ind. Formerly Carrie Alice Cullison, the bride is the eldest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Cullison of Dugger. She is a retired teacher at Frohardt School.

Miss Mercer bride-elect

The engagement of Miss Jo Mercer, Maryville, formerly of Granite City and Jerry Schutzenhofer of Maryville, is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mrs. Nancy Wiggens, of Wood River and Floyd Mercer Jr., Edwardsville.

Miss Mercer is a 1975 graduate of Edwardsville High School and is a junior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where she is majoring in biology.

The prospective groom was graduated in 1974 from Assumption High School, East St. Louis. He is presently employed at 7 Up Bottling Co., St. Louis and also is owner operator of JLS Photography in Maryville. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schutzenhofer of Washington Park.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a July 26 wedding to take place at the SIUE Religious Center.

Shower honors Lesa Jarrard

A bridal shower given last week at the Nameoki Recreation Center complimented Miss Lesa Jarrard, who will be married July 12 to Douglas Smith at the Second Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the pre-wedding party were Mrs. Phyllis Charlton, Mrs. Caryl McClaskey, Miss Lauren Jarrard and Miss Ann Uram, who will serve as maid of honor.

Miss Jarrard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Jarrard, 2390 Lynch Ave.

Her fiancé's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Smith, 3051 Circle Drive.

Each of the guests was presented a corsage of roses, handmade by the bride-elect's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Zikovich.

Decorations throughout the hall reflected the colors of blue, green, pink and yellow.

The gift table was encircled with a white skirt, draped with tiny pink roses and greenery. A bride doll figurine was the centerpiece.

Games were played and prizes were awarded.

Angela Nance is honored

A surprise bridal shower was given last week for Miss Angela Nance by her sister, Mrs. Terri Nail in her home, 2832 Ralph St.

Blue and white decorations were used throughout the residence and in the table appointments.

Miss Nance will become the bride of Paul Salzman on July 11 at Mount Zion General Baptist Church.

During the social event games were played and several prizes awarded followed by the honoree opening her gifts with the assistance of the prospective groom.

Guests attending included Vicki Nance Jean Rudd, Vicki Nance, Ruth Von Schmitt, Marie Winnie, Donna Johnson, Helen Nance, Patty Farber, Debbie Timley, Jean Timley, Pam Shewell, Eleanor Cook, Sylvia Richmond, Debbie Hickman, Justine Lamb, Cheryl Hickman, Almeta Angel and Mrs. Cora Nance, mother of the guest of honor.

GC group attends St. Louis show

Members and guests of the Senior Citizen Happy Group Club attended a dinner and performance on the Goldenrod Showboat in St. Louis, Sunday.

The all day outing and trip made by bus was arranged by Lucille Pierce, for people.

They were entertained by the cast of the show, "Bilby The Kid" and during the event the master of ceremonies announced that Mr. and Mrs. Carl Krohn were celebrating their 55th wedding anniversary.

President Olivia Lehman reminded the members of the birthday and business meeting to be held today.

Delray birthday members honored

Members of Delray Rebekah Lodge, Verna Willman, Elaine Stone, Zelma Finch, Sharon Corey and Hazel Wheeler, were accorded special honors in observance of their birthdays at a regular lodge meeting held last week.

Those reported sick were visited and cards sent and new projects of the organization were discussed. Sharon Corey and Laura Lawrence will be installed as new officers at a session set for Tuesday, it was announced and new members will also be held at the same time.

Those participating in the initiation ceremony are to meet at the lodge at 7 p.m. on Monday to prepare for the official event, Linda Butts, noble grand reported.

A social hour followed the meeting.

On dean's list

Stephen E. Spencer, 3904 Newell Drive was named to the dean's list at Aurora College for superior scholarship during the spring term. A freshman, Spencer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Spencer.

David T. Arthur, academic dean at Aurora, announced that 94 students have been recognized for outstanding scholarship during the spring term of 1980.

Drusilla Andrews Chapter welcomes state officer

Thirty-three members from the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the DAR, Granite City and the Edwardsville Chapter met at Rusty's Restaurant to honor the Illinois State Regent, Mrs. J. Victor Lucas.

Mrs. Lucas was joined in the receiving line by Mrs. Emma Schoen, Drusilla Andrews regent, and Mrs. Jane Ott, regent of the Edwardsville Chapter. Prior to the luncheon Mrs. Marge Walker led the group in a pledge of allegiance to the flag, Mrs. Ott led the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," and Mrs. Eva Meier gave the invocation.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Lucas was the speaker and shared her remarks on the national theme for the past year, "A Tapestry of Service." Through various types of endeavors—both the large buildings owned by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington, D.C., including a genealogical library with its holdings second only to the Mormon Church Library in Salt Lake City to the DAR schools in Alabama and North Carolina and the Indian colleges in Oklahoma and South Dakota receiving DAR support and endowments—Mrs. Lucas remarked there was some project to fit everyone's interest. She urged everyone to take an office and do her part. Each person's small contribution would make the tapestry of DAR work that much stronger.

Mrs. Schoen introduced Mrs. Janet Wilson, from the Drusilla Andrews Chapter, who is serving as the state chairman of magazine advertising. An honorarium from the Drusilla Andrews Chapter was given by Mrs. Schoen to Mrs. Lucas to aid her in her DAR project.

Drusilla Andrews Chapter members present were: Mrs. Mildred McCormick, Mrs. McCormick, Eva Renfro, Mary Candler, Ella Rhy Smith, and Mesdames Delores Rabey, Georgia Engelke, Bertha Schoen, Barbara Williams, Helen Manholt, Marian Kastelle, D. Reva Turner, Mildred Whyers, Shirley Schewendemann, and those mentioned above. Guests present were Mrs. Charlotte Walton and Elizabeth Griffith of the Macoupin County Chapter of the DAR.

Five members of the Drusilla Andrews Chapter attended the Division 6 Roundup in Altamont on Friday. Sixteen chapters represented by 74 women spent the day at the Carriage Inn learning the latest information relative to the DAR work.

Mrs. Ronald Mordhorst of Belleville, Division 6 director, presided and introduced several state chairmen who presented reports to the group. Mrs. Janet Wilson, state chairwoman of magazine advertising, congratulated the Chester DAR Chapter for selling $1300 of advertising last year and challenged it and others to do as well this year.

Mrs. J. Victor Lucas, state regent, spoke briefly to the group. Attending from Granite City in addition to Mrs. Wilson were Mrs. Emma Schoen, regent, Mrs. Margaret Belt, treasurer, Mrs. Barbara Williams, secretary, and Mrs. Shirley Schewendemann. Mrs. Schewendemann will direct the state chorus which will sing at the 1981 state convention. She also spoke briefly to the group asking for choral volunteers.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION
TO: SUSAN C. TRIPP (MOTHER OF RENEE TRIPP, A MINOR) 80-230 and to All Whom It May Concern:
Take notice that on the 11th day of June, 1980 a petition was filed under the Juvenile Court Act by Assistant State's Attorney Dan Schabtnik in the Circuit Court of Madison County entitled "In the Interest of RENEE TRIPP, a minor" and that in Circuit courtroom at Edwardsville on the 11th day of July at 10:00 A.M. or as soon thereafter as this cause may be heard, an adjudicatory hearing will be held upon the petition to have the child declared to be a ward of the court under that Act. The court has authority in this proceeding to take from the custody and guardianship of the minor, and to appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption of the minor.
If, under you appear at the hearing and show cause against the petition, the petition may be taken for consideration as usual and of each you, and an order, judgment or decree entered.

200-YARD ARTWORK. Christine Milon, a Chicago artist, has constructed what she has termed a "Site Specific Sculpture for SIUE" on the side of the hill at the south entrance to the campus. Made up of 105 red and white roadway barricades, the artwork "protects" a single furrow of planted soybeans. The 200-yard-long design undulates up and down over two distinct rises in the landscape and has caused quite a stir among people who drive the route.

CONCERT PERFORMERS. known as Bridge will present a gospel concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, July 13, at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave., according to the Rev. Carl Watkins, host pastor. Five vocals and Bridge live horns, keyboards and rhythm blend together for the gospel songs of today as well as re-arranged standards of the church. Rev. Watkins extends an invitation to area residents to attend the event.

BAC coordinator named as Fellow

The American Society of Radiologic Technologists has announced the appointment of Mrs. B. R. Vallino, RT, (ARRT), as a fellow member of the American Society of Radiologic Technologists. Mrs. Vallino of Maryville, will accept the opening business session of the ASRT's Fifth-Second annual meeting, July 12-14, in Atlanta, Ga.

This week also has been proclaimed National Radiologic Technologist week. Mrs. Vallino is presently one of three ASRT members in the State of Illinois to have received this distinguished award.

Fellow members are those individuals who have demonstrated outstanding ability in the field of Radiologic Technology. A professional thesis, society, educational and scientific contributions are required for Fellow membership.

Mrs. Vallino is presently the Co-ordinator of Radiologic Technology Program at Belleville Area College, Belleville. Prior to this appointment she was the Radiology Department administrator and program co-ordinator at Centerville Township Hospital, East St. Louis.

SCHOLARSHIP DONATION of $700 is presented to Norman Garrett, right, president of the Granite City Scholarship Foundation, Inc., by Kiwanian Ed McGovern. McGovern is a member of the Kiwanis Foundation. The money represents a full scholarship awarded to a senior from one of the city's high schools to continue their education after graduation.

1851 was year of hardship

By BARBARA LAWRENCE

and MARVIN SOLOMAN

(This is one of a series of articles about early Madison County and surrounding communities. The articles are based in material taken from the Flag Papers, a collection of manuscripts—letters and journals—written by the Flag family, one of the first families to settle in Madison County. The Flag Papers are housed in Lovejoy Library at SIUE.)

The year 1851 was one of hardship for residents of Southern Illinois, especially those living along the rivers. Floods, illnesses, depression—all combined to take a heavy toll in lives or economic disaster. As the year progressed, those sufferings were chronicled in Gershon Flag's letters, which suggest distraught urgency.

That year began with mild temperatures throughout the winter. Spring plowing began in mid-March, and by April several weeks of good weather had promised rich harvests of grain and fruit. But then a series of hard frosts killed most of the fruit. In May, the rains began, sending rivers over their banks and forcing the evacuation of riverside dwellers.

At the same time, the number of deaths from cholera, always a threat, suddenly grew very alarming. Eight or nine persons had died in an inn just outside Springfield. Alton and Jersey County were stricken, and packet boats coming up from New Orleans brought cholera-ravaged crews and passengers, adding to the increasing death toll.

Heavy rains continued throughout June, preventing or greatly delaying harvest. More persons were evacuated because of floods; more died from cholera. Gershon wrote that among the dead were William Porter and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Cline, both of Springfield. Mr. Greer married less than a week. Mr. Hess and Tom Buck of Edwardsville. (The Greers, John and James, were born in Ireland; the Hesses were from Germany.)

Thomas Buck was listed on the 1850 census as 64 years of age, born in New Jersey. Buck had three sons and one daughter still at home in 1850: Thomas Jr., 33; Andrew, 25; Robert, 24; and Elizabeth, 17. Also among the dead were Mr. Bratton, a native of Delaware and a tenant of a farm owned by a man named Ingleheart, and one of William Sanner's sons whose name is not given.

Tim Sabin, 53, a neighbor who was frequently mentioned in Flag's correspondence, also died that year, as did sandy Gillis. Sabin, a native of Massachusetts, had in his household a Leah Sabin, 32, born in England, and three children, Mary, 7; Elizabeth, 3; and George, 2. Since Leah and Mary were born in England, Elizabeth in Illinois, and George in Ohio, they were probably related by marriage.

One more person, a Mrs. Hill of Paddock's Prairie, was listed among the dead. Aside from indicating that she was of German birth, Flag gives little information concerning her. The family doctor, Dr. Thomas Hope, had been ill but had recovered.

Throughout July and August the rains continued. Flag wrote that there had been an estimated 8-10 inches of rainfall during the first two weeks of August. Hay remained in the fields; corn had given over entirely to weeds; wheat and oat shocks rotted where they stood.

Transportation was severely restricted. People from Edwardsville had to go by way of Alton to get to St. Louis because of high water, and the plank roads in the bottom had washed away. The ferries between Alton and Missouri kept operating but charged up to $5 for a wagon and $1 per head of livestock.

September was hot and dry, with temperatures higher than they had been all summer, but despite the heat, large numbers of people were sick with chills and fever. Again work was delayed for want of help. When the produce was finally taken to market, the prices were so low Gershon feared he would not meet his expenses. His letters and Willard's, too, indicate that money was scarce. One relative wrote of borrowing $200 at 20 percent interest. In an uncharacteristically gloomy mood, Gershon Flag wrote that next year he would rent out his farm, that farming it was "more plague than profit." His words probably reflected the sentiments of many for 1851.

There are two advantages to having a savings account at your local bank. The first and by far the most obvious advantage is . . . you put your money to work for you. It earns more money 24 hours of every day . . . and does so without risk (deposits are now insured by FDIC to $100,000.00).

The second advantage is less obvious but perhaps as important as the first. You see, your money not only works for you, it works for the entire community.

Part of your money may help a neighbor build an addition to his house for the new arrival expected soon. Part of it may help a new business coming to town get its doors open. Part of it may help finance a local farm operation to increase fertilizer application during a critical growing period. Part may go to an established business to help make a special inventory purchase. All these things can be important to you. The business making the special inventory buy will probably pass those savings along to customers, the farmer will help keep prices low by producing more, the new business may be where your daughter gets a job, and the neighbor . . . well, that's just being a good neighbor. It all makes a better community and a better place for you to live. You Can BANK On It!
